

Subject: An Initial Appraisal of Cuban Policy of the United States

Sergeant: Name : a/101 ASVI, Jezekiel, aged 65, Jewish, of Warsaw, Poland.
Born in Poland 4/16/1884; formerly served at sea in London, now a scientific translator for the Royal Research Institute in Warsaw on synthetic rubber.

b/KASIALEK, Wiktor, b. 1914, Polish, ex-Soviet, formerly Kosynierow 40/50, employed as engineer in Gdansk-Harbo, formerly working for Rail road.

1. It was an unforgivable fault of the US government to have let the Cuban cattle run in Cuba. Also during October crisis of 1962 President Kennedy should have insisted on an initial demand for an on spot inspection of Cuba. Khrushchev would have surely backed down. In general, American policy is inconsistent and clumsy.
  2. Poles as well as other satellites repented very deeply the a given to Castro at their expense. "Recently" Polish government sent in Warsaw 3000.000 tony coal. In July 1968 there was a meeting of conference of all satellites on which under ussr's leadership it was decided to further increase Cuban aid. It was demanded that some countries, and among them Poland, will have to lower their living standard in order to comply with new conditions for Cuba.
